Notice: Water Safety Training - Disclaimer of Liability

Dear Parents/Guardians,

We are writing to inform you about the water safety training program conducted by the Judah Brown Project. While we strive to provide comprehensive water safety education and training, it is important to note that participation in this program does not guarantee the prevention of drowning incidents. We want to ensure that you understand the limitations and the disclaimer of liability associated with this training.

1) Educational Nature: The water safety training offered by the Judah Brown Project is designed to educate participants about various aspects of water safety, including but not limited to basic swimming strategies, rescue procedures, and general safety guidelines. It aims to equip participants with knowledge and skills that may reduce the risks associated with water activities. However, it is crucial to understand that training alone cannot eliminate all risks involved in aquatic environments.

2) Individual Responsibility: The responsibility for ensuring the safety and well-being of your child in aquatic environments lies with you as a parent/guardian. While our water safety training program may enhance their awareness and skills, it cannot substitute for adequate supervision, vigilance, and adherence to established safety protocols. We strongly recommend that you actively supervise your child and maintain constant awareness of their activities while they are in or near water.

3) Limitation of Liability: By enrolling yourself or your child in the water safety training program, you acknowledge and agree that the Judah Brown Project, its trainers, instructors, and associated personnel will not be held legally liable for any injuries, accidents, or drowning incidents that may occur during or as a result of the training sessions. You understand that participating in water activities always carries inherent risks, and the Judah Brown Project cannot guarantee the absolute safety of any individual.

4) Parental Consent and Agreement: You or your child's participation in the water safety training program implies your consent to the terms outlined in this notice. You agree to assume all risks associated with water activities and release the Judah Brown Project and its representatives from any liability or claims arising from any incident that may occur during or after the training.

We urge you to thoroughly discuss the importance of water safety with your child and reinforce the necessity for responsible behavior in and around water. If you have any questions or concerns regarding the water safety training program or this disclaimer, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Thank you for your attention and understanding.

Sincerely,

Christi Brown
